

Galileo Web Services Sample Web Site

We offer a Sample Web Site that provides you the ability to learn and work with samples of actual Galileo Web Service transactions.

Go to the Galileo Web Services Sample Site

The Sample Site provides you with:

- Test access for Web Service requests for air, car, and hotel.
- Use Getting Started code for C+, Java, VB NET, and Perl in sample application.
- An overview of Web Services architecture.
- Access to the Web Service Help System for details, instructions, and reference information.
- Ability to view and copy sample code for several languages and platforms.

Access to some features available on the Sample Site are restricted:

- All users can access the sample requests and read the over Overview.
- Prospective customers, who receive a preliminary user name and password, can also review the Documentation section, including the Galileo Web Services Help System.
- Licensed customers with a user name and password, can also access the sample code in the View Code section.
