

XML Select™ Product Information

Integrates your applications to real-time access to the Apollo™ and Galileo™ systems.

XML Select™ lets you seamlessly integrate your applications to the Apollo™ and Galileo™ systems and create powerful web-based booking engines or other server-based and desktop applications.

With XML Select™, Travelport has streamlined the process of coding to structured data by providing customized tags and proprietary components that translate, package and route data between a client application and the computer reservation system (CRS).

XML Select™ allows standard access to both the Apollo and Galileo systems while also providing a flexible and highly-robust interface. Applications developed with XML Select™ are completely customizable and adaptable with a variety of programming languages.

Because of its power and intelligence, XML Select™ can provide your business with:

- New revenue opportunities
- Standardized access to our GDSs
- Greater control over your sales processes
- Efficient data exchange
- And much, much more...

Accelerate your business with XML Select!
